2.1 Creation of the Blockchain

Mad Comedian's Blockchain is built on several wallets and digital wallets like Stripe, which is a money transfer merchant account. Another is PayPal and if done through the downloadable app—the transfer of money is organized by square. When you invest in Mad Comedian, your investment is a donation and not an account receivable option. Transferring as a collector through Cash App is and will be considered as an in-kind donation, and the funds will not be transferred into a main account but instead invested into the ETF's on the platform.

Purchasing the actual NFT on the website is purchasing a physical notary on the market ownership of MCCM01, with a list of the listing above—to show proof of ownership. There is only 100 of these pink sheets to be purchased and agreed upon per the Call Warrant of Peggy Dyer.

2.2 History

Mad Comedian is a Web 2.0 creation as in terms of concept and production. The copyright of Mad Comedian belongs to a weblog that is a sitcom on Facebook: called (Real Comedians From Da Hood). The theology of Mad Comedian started with a few wars on Instagram and Twitter with Kevin Hart and Lil Duval, and Marlon Waynes. Its war became a feud, and created a series called Celebrity vs Characters' War.

From the war on celebrities, Mad Comedian built Meme Art and Meme Stock, with his war with Kermit The Frog. Mad Comedian getting into the NFT market was to recreate the world that Walt Disney started but wasn't in the right time or had the right technology to circumvent the idea.

2.3 Discussion

Mad Comedian has grown into a global icon on Facebook, with the role out and fall of Facebook Watch, and so as a challenge to continue the trend, The collection of art was built on two different systems, the iconic Mad Comedian was built on Moviestorm technology that is animated 3-d gaming software. And the second version was built on web 2.0 technology using Facebook facial recognition and designer software.

And according to the prospectus around Mad Comedian, Omar Dyer wanted the digital art to become a collectible item. Omar Dyer needed to raise money to continue and keep the educational program moving forward and expanding it from just live shows on Instagram. As a public brand that was built around a nonprofit organization, the best way to crowdfund was to open a DPO (Direct Private Offering) Direct Placement. Opening a DPO allowed the brand to venture into the NFT market. This allowed the nonprofit organization the tools to teach and build a consensus around financial literacy.

3. Conclusion

3.1 Summary

What is Mad Comedian, and what is Mad Comedian on Canvas known as MCCM01 – it's Omar Dyer's face and his artwork in comedy and writing. Omar Dyer was a struggling artist and the pandemic allowed him to advance his craft. And without getting into who Omar Dyer shall be known as – in 2007, he was nominated for a lot of small press awards, and self-proclaimed himself to be nominated as a noble prize notary. Creating Mad Comedian, allowed the artist to create his imaginary brain and put it to life. Mad Comedian in movie making, in comedy and in animation, was structured to last as a historical document.

3.2 Conclusion

Mad Comedian on Canvas known as MCCM01 is the NFT that is traded on one platform currently, as a public item. We use Cash App as the platform to monetize the NFT with a Make Mad Comedian Famous Fund. It's a no royalties type of transaction that is based on crowdfunding metrics. Case Studies are showing that buyers and collectors of the artwork, claims that they have been rugged by the design. Those ideas are false because, as a donation or a donated investment – your money went directly into building the technology, so it is impossible to rug this NFT. And zero percent of the money raised went to the founders or the artist. During the markup of this product, Omar Dyer who is the founder lost the IP deed statement in order to build this – any other trade of the image on Mad Comedian, has been stolen notes, where the funds never reached the initial company. So basically, you rugged yourself.
